“ I remember when I first met my mother in law, I was nervous because mothers can be a bit harsh to their son’s girlfriend. But she locked eyes with me and said you aren’t going anywhere and from that day on my name was daughter in law. I feel like she manifested our union because she truly loved me the same way I loved her. We had our up and downs yet through all the years of knowing her I knew I wasn’t going anywhere and I’m still here. I miss you more than you truly know crazy lady but when I look at my son I see your beautiful smile and I know you didn’t go anywhere either
