“ Sharon is going to be truly missed. Grief is a process which is natural to miss her or be angry that she is gone. But my prayer is that people will feel she is closer now that her body is gone because her Spirit lives on. I am grateful the way the Lord works people into our lives. I was able to meet Sharon because of my friendship with her daughter Ashley. I was able to develop my own friendship with Sharon for myself. We found common ground through our love for Jesus Christ as well as Ashley but shortly realizing we had more in common. I loved our talks and will cherish the moments we had in this world but until we meet again I will do my best to love your love ones where they are!

“ My deepest sympathies, thoughts and prayer for my family. Sharon, you will forever be beautiful and will rejoice in Heaven with our family. My heart is broken. You have always been a little Sister to me. We shared lots of laughs, went bowling, skating and to wrestling together. When I lived at your house, I never wanted to leave. We emailed one another and I miss those days but you will forever be in my heart. Love, LuAnn

I was blessed to know Sharon through my friendship with Ashley. We developed a friendship. We had time great talks about our love for the our Lord Jesus Christ as well as we had found common ground at only through our love for Ashley but in ways we felt with life. She will truly be missed! I know her body is gone but her Spirit will live on! Love, Kelly
